To Whom it May Concern,

My name is Drew Bollman and I have been Giannas's High School Soccer Coach for the last 3 years. Through those three years, Gianna has not wavered on her hard work, perseverance, and leadership of our team. She is the first to arrive and the last to leave for every practice, and while there, she goes at every task with determination and without complaining. These attributes and more are what made Gianna the easy pick to be our leader on defense this year. She encourages the girls and even when the game is not going our way, continues to give 100% which boosts the level of play for the other girls around her. Gianna does not have to yell and boss the other players around. She leads by example and serves the girls on the team. Those are the attributes of a true leader.

Gianna is also one of the most coachable athletes I have ever had the pleasure of working with, during my time here at Central Valley. I ask more of Gianna than any other athlete on the team because I have a lot of faith in her to get the job done. She never comes off the field. She listens to what I have to say and then goes out there and implements those strategies on the field. Not only that, but she consistently asks questions in order to get better and help out her teammates and her input during the game is often very helpful. Gianna is a player that any coach would love to have. With her hard work, comes a personality that infects the rest of the girls on the team. She is one of the girls who makes practice enjoyable, even when we are running in the heat throughout the summer and preseason. She consistently has a good attitude even when the work might not be fun.

Gianna not only performs on the field but also in the classroom. She does well in school and through talking with her parents have found that she is at the top of her class. I have no doubt in my mind that Gianna will be successful in whatever she decides to do in the future, because of the character that she has shown me through the last three years.

If you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact me.

Respectfully,

Drew Bollman

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing this letter for Gianna Cercone. Gianna is a member of Club Hope at Central Valley High School. She volunteered her time to raise money for the Club Hope Foundation, Inc. by organizing the Pink Out game at our high school with three of her peers. Gianna worked on this event on various days ranging from August 29 through October 6, 2023, the date of the Pink Out game. She devoted over 40 hours of volunteer time in preparation for a successful night. Her duties included, but were not limited to, selling t-shirts to the entire school community, distributing these t-shirts, making decorations for the event, asking for donations in the community, and making connections with current and past cancer survivors to have them recognized at the game. Gianna and her peers did an amazing job, and together raised over $5000 breast cancer awareness.

If you have any questions, feel free to call me at 724-312-2808.

Sincerely,

Stacey Brown
