EMORY UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

January 29th, 2025

To Whom It May Concern,

This letter serves to confirm the volunteer service contributions of Sarah Beule at Emory University Hospital (EUH).

Below is a breakdown of her service hours by date:

- June 26, 2024, 8 hours
- July 10, 2024, 8 hours
- July 17, 2024, 8 hours
- July 24, 2024, 8 hours

During her time with EUH, Sarah participated in the Summer Teen Volunteer Program. She made a significant impact through her service at the hospital's main lobby Guest Services desk, she consistently assisted patients by helping them navigate the hospital, finding their destinations, and, when needed, transporting them in wheelchairs to their appointments. Her dedication has contributed greatly to improving patient experiences and enhancing the hospital's mission to provide exceptional care.

Additionally, Sarah Served in the nursing unit 6G helping answer the phone, answer the patient call bell, rounding on patient rooms, doing light cleaning and, light administrative tasks. Sarah had a very positive impact on the patients and staff of the 6G nursing unit.

GCU Athletic Scholarship Selection Committee:

I have had the pleasure of knowing Sarah Beule for more than ten years as a swimmer and coach on the Twin Lakes Thunder Bolts (TLTB) Swim Team. As head coach and director of the program, I am honored to write this recommendation for her and reflect on the many ways she has positively influenced the Twin Lakes swim program through her enthusiasm and leadership.

Sarah has been a strong swimmer throughout her career because of her work ethic and focus. Coaching her is a rewarding experience; Sarah not only accepted feedback graciously but sought guidance for ways to improve individually or help support the team. She is a committed role model and a trustworthy teammate.

For the past three years, I have hired Sarah as a coach after witnessing her growth and impact as a swimmer. What most impressed me about her is the level of energy she consistently brings to practices and competitions. In practices at the start of the season, she seemed to innately understand how to gain the trust and interest of even the least focused and skilled young swimmer and bring out the absolute best in them. She wisely establishes a relationship to ensure the swimmers are open and excited to learn. And, then she gently guides them through the fundamentals of swimming, always prioritizing their experience in the process.

Sarah is trustworthy and it is tough to rattle her. She stays level under pressure which is a highly valued trait as a coach with young swimmers. Sarah models grace under pressure. She is a reliable leader and a comfort to those who need extra support.

As is evidenced by her many leadership roles and extracurricular activities, Sarah is an accomplished young person who manages her time wisely and shares her talents generously. I can speak to her resilience, strength, and gratitude after watching her grow up on the pool deck for the past decade.

I will miss Sarah next year when she goes to college, where I know she will continue to thrive. I have absolute confidence that Sarah will be an asset in both the academic, athletic, and community environments she chooses. Sarah has my highest and unreserved recommendation, and I am confident she will responsibly and respectfully manage any resources she is offered. I would be happy to speak with you further about Sarah should you have any questions about this recommendation. I can be reached at catstansbury@gmail.com.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern,

It is with great enthusiasm that I write this letter of recommendation for Sarah Beule. As Sarah's high school swim coach, I have had the privilege of watching her develop as a swimmer, leader, and teammate over the past year. Sarah's exceptional dedication to the sport, combined with her positive attitude and leadership skills, sets her apart as an outstanding individual both in and out of the water.

From the moment Sarah joined our team, she distinguished herself as a hard-working and disciplined athlete. She has consistently demonstrated a strong work ethic, often arriving early to practice and being one of the first ones in the pool. Sarah's determination and strong work ethic have translated into personal best performances in the pool and helped lead to team victories.

What truly sets Sarah apart is her character. She is not only a hard-working athlete but also an outstanding individual with a genuine commitment to personal growth and the well-being of others. Her humility, resilience, and unwavering positivity make her a joy to coach and a cherished member of our team.

I am confident that Sarah's athletic ability, dedication, and character will make her an asset to any college campus. She possesses the drive and determination to excel, and I have no doubt that she will continue to achieve great things in the future.

Please feel free to contact me at 404-729-8635 or Tricia_Newmyer@dekalbschoolsga.org if you have any questions or would like additional information. It has been an honor to coach Sarah, and I am proud to support her in this next chapter of her journey.

Sincerely,

Tricia Newmyer
